Narrative Vitae

I have combined success in business with a life in the arts. Throughout a career as an executive vice president in scientific/medical publishing, I continued to pursue my experimental innovations.

My experience in business with my expertise in management informed and accommodated the inevitable demands of working in relative obscurity and isolation. It freed me from pressure to conform and allowed me to move, unimpeded in the direction I set myself.

In 2000, I abandoned the business world to focus entirely on painting.
